

when you PLAY

Encourage your child to imagine what heaven is like using art supplies. Let your child imagine and draw his ideas of heaven. Then invite him to tell you about what he created.

when you DRIVE

Notice what different buildings are like as you drive, pointing out tall ones, big ones, shiny ones, etc. Ask them about the most special place they have ever seen. Help your child imagine what heaven might be like, more wonderful than anything we've ever seen or known.

when you RELAX

Ask your child to name all of her friends, and then pray for them by name. Talk about what why these people are good friends, and how she can also be a good friend to them.

PARENT TIME

This month we wrap up our New Testament year of "God's Unfolding Story." It seems appropriate to have a memory verse that focuses on love. In His love, God sent Jesus to this earth as a little baby. Jesus showed us what love looks like as He taught and served. As Jesus gave His life for us, we saw the ultimate picture of deep love that gives all. In love, God established the church for us to live in community, and be an example of love to everyone we meet.

God's story is a beautiful story of love, and I pray that your children know that in a deeper way now! And I hope your children feel so loved—within these walls and outside them—that they also want to share that love with the world.
